INFORMATION ABOUT THE CITY AND THE AREA WHERE THE COMPANY/INSTITUTION IS LOCATED (General information about SECURITY, ACCOMODATION, PUBLIC TRANSPORT...)	Styria is a state or Bundesland, located in the southeast of Austria. Graz is the capital of Styria and second-largest city in Austria after Vienna. On 1 January 2017, it had a population of 320,587. Graz has a long tradition as a "university town": its six universities have more than 44,000 students. Its "Old Town" is one of the best-preserved city centres in Central Europe An extensive public transport network makes Graz an easy city to navigate without a car. The city has a comprehensive bus network, complementing the Graz tram network consisting of eight lines. Four lines pass through the new underground tramstop at the main railway station (Hauptbahnhof) and on to the old town before branching out. Furthermore, there are seven night-time bus routes, although these run only at weekends and on evenings preceding public holidays.
GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE COMPANY/INSTITUTION	Roombiotic is a young innovative technology company and spin-off of the Research Center Pharmaceutical Engineering (RCPE) and the University of Technology in Graz. The scientists of Roombiotic deciphered the natural protective mechanism of beneficial microorganisms producing volatile organic compounds. The effect is based on highly bioactive flavouring materials that were identified. Those substances can be used in protective formulations for the prolongation of shelf-life or the microbial stabilization of food and feed material.
MAIN ACTIVITY OF THE COMPANY/INSTITUTION	(1) Functional flavourings and help the customers to use them with their products. The supplemented food shows a significantly extended resistance to prevailing germs. The second pillar is the new service (2) Microbiome Tracking, where production sites are analysed with the latest high throughput DNA-based screenings of the microbiome.
A BRIEF EXPLANATION OF MAIN PROJECTS	Shelf-life extension of food and feed products. Molecular biological methods for the detection of pathogens in industrial areas. Bio based antimicrobials
