Journal Title	Editor-in-Chief	Days to First Response	CiteScore	Two-Year Impact Factor
Accounts of Chemical Research	Christopher Chang	0.4	31.4	16.4
Accounts of Materials Research	Jiaxing Huang	N/A	17.7	14
ACS Agricultural Science & Technology	Thomas Hofmann	6.4	2.8	2.3
ACS Applied Bio Materials	Xing Yi Ling	5.1	9.4	4.6
ACS Applied Electronic Materials	Xing Yi Ling	4.9	7.2	4.3

Submission through the ACS Publishing Center

Qualification through the open access agreement is systematically based on the submitting authors primary affiliation at the time of manuscript submission.

During the submission process, please ensure the affiliation in the Submitting Agent field and the Author & Institutions field reflect your affiliation. The affiliation in both fields should show the same institution.

Journal Publishing Agreement

The JPA assistant will identify that an author is affiliated to an open access agreement.

Authors selecting the Yes, I wish to publish open access as per the agreement option will retain copyright. An approved funding request or payment of the APC must be completed for the manuscript to publish.

Authors selecting the No, I do not wish to publish open access option will transfer the copyright to the ACS. The manuscript can still be published as open access, but copyright will remain with the ACS.

Note: Authors publishing in a gold journal will not be required to complete this step if the agreement provides coverage for gold journals.

Journal Publishing Agreement

Our system has identified that your institution/funder has an agreement with ACS. This agreement is associated with Your Institution/Funder Agreement Name which allows you to retain copyright and publish under a CC BY license.

Do you want to publish open access as per the agreement?

- ☐ Yes, I wish to publish open access as per the agreement.
- ☐ No, I do not wish to publish open access.

The agreement and Creative Commons license type are identified for the author.

Journal Publishing Agreement

If the author selected the No, I do not wish to publish open access option, the JPA assistant will confirm the author's intent.

Journal Publishing Agreement

Our system has identified that your institution/funder has an agreement with ACS. This agreement is associated with Your Institution/Funder Agreement Name which allows you to retain copyright and publish under a CC BY license.

Do you want to publish open access as per the agreement?

☐ Yes, I wish to publish open access as per the agreement.

☐ No, I do not wish to publish open access.

By answering "No" you are declining the opportunity to have your institution fund your open access fees. If you would like to request open access funding through your institutional agreement, please change your response to "yes, I wish to publish open access per the agreement." If you have additional questions, contact support@services.acs.org.

Journal Publishing Agreement

To finalize the JPA, the author should proceed through answering additional questions that are not related to open access.

The image displays three overlapping screenshots of the ACS Publications Journal Publishing Agreement (JPA) form. The top-left screenshot shows the initial agreement page with the ACS Publications logo and the title "Journal Publishing Agreement". It contains a question: "Were all authors of this manuscript employees of one of the governments listed below when they researched and contributed to the manuscript?" with radio button options: "One or more authors was not an employee of any of the listed governments when they contributed to the manuscript" (selected), "All authors were United States (U.S.) Government employees when they researched and contributed to the manuscript", "All authors were United Kingdom (U.K.) Government employees when they researched and contributed to the manuscript", "All authors were Canadian Government employees when they researched and contributed to the manuscript", "All authors were Australian Government employees when they researched and contributed to the manuscript", and "All authors were New Zealand Government employees when they researched and contributed to the manuscript". Below this is another question: "Was the corresponding author of the manuscript an employee of the Commonwealth country that recognizes Crown Copyright, when the manuscript was researched and contributed to?" with radio button options: "Yes, the corresponding author is an employee of one of those governments" and "No, the corresponding author is not an employee of one of those governments" (selected). At the bottom are buttons for "Save and Continue", "Save and Close", and "Back". The middle screenshot shows a similar page but with a different question: "Does your employer need to sign* this Journal Publishing Agreement?" with radio button options: "Yes, my employer needs to sign this agreement" and "No, my employer does not need to sign this agreement" (selected). It includes a footnote: "* Authors are commonly authorized to sign agreements about their publishing on behalf of their employer. If you are not sure, you might want to check with your employer or a more senior colleague." and buttons for "Save and Continue", "Save and Close", and "Back". The bottom-right screenshot shows the "Electronic Submission for Journal Publishing Agreement" page. It includes a thank you message, a "Preview" link, and a prompt to sign the electronic version. It has a text box for "Enter Full Name" and a checkbox for "I acknowledge that I have both reviewed and agree to the terms of this Journal Publishing Agreement." (unchecked). It also includes a link to download a PDF version and a note about saving progress. At the bottom are buttons for "Submit", "Save and Close", "Back", and "Need Help?".

Next steps

Thank you for taking the time to complete the Journal Publishing Agreement for the Manuscript "Gas-phase Reactivity of Phenylcarbyne Anions" for the Journal Journal of the American Chemical Society. Now that you have submitted your agreement, you will receive an email confirmation shortly that includes a copy of the completed form for your records.

Your ACS Journal Publishing Agreement stipulates that your article will be made open, and therefore you will retain copyright. However, please note that an order must be completed and paid in full, even if you are not personally submitting the payment, before ACS can publish your manuscript.
