NOTTINGHAM
TRENT UNIVERSITY

Welcome

It is with great pleasure that I present you with the programme for our 2017 NTU Global Summer School.

Nottingham is a wonderful location for your summer. You will have no doubt heard of Robin Hood and the Sheriff of Nottingham, but there are many other reasons we are proud of our city. We are perfectly located in the heart of England, with London, the coast and the UK's major attractions all within easy reach. We have a wide selection of live music festivals, sport, and outdoor theatre, plus a rich social and cultural history.

Nottingham is one of only twenty locations worldwide to be named a UNESCO City of Literature, in recognition of the quality and quantity of its literary history and its diverse contemporary writing community. Our Summer School staff and dedicated NTU student ambassadors will help acquaint you with the very best of what Nottingham has to offer through evening social events and inclusive tours.

We are delighted that this year's programme brings together a broad range of courses from across our academic provision at NTU; from art and design, journalism and English heritage, to business, law and the natural sciences. Our courses vary in duration, but many are just one week long, allowing you to put together a study programme that suits your specific interests. All of our courses are credit-bearing, which means that as well as being academically rigorous, they also reflect the qualities all of our courses are known for: innovative teaching, active learning, and plenty of opportunity to engage with professionals and practitioners from Nottingham and beyond.

Our Global Summer School provides an opportunity for you to meet like-minded people from across the world, and to connect on a global level here in Nottingham. It is a unique chance to immerse yourself in a new environment alongside people from a diverse mix of backgrounds and cultures.

I hope you find this brochure useful as you start to create your own personalised summer school experience here at Nottingham Trent University.

Professor Cillian Ryan
Pro-Vice Chancellor (International)

Nottingham

the student experience

Nottingham is one of the UK's largest cities and is renowned for being popular with students. The centre is surprisingly compact and boasts familiar high-street shops and independent designer boutiques, as well as pubs, clubs and cafés for every taste. With spacious pedestrian areas, an eclectic mix of old and new buildings surrounding a modern market square, and a very handy tram system, Nottingham has everything you could need.

The city

Within walking distance of our City Campus are Nottingham Castle and Art Gallery, the Theatre Royal, Nottingham Playhouse, the Galleries of Justice, the independent Broadway Cinema, and the Broomhouse Yard Museum of Nottingham Life.

There are tours of our city's darker past, as well as the 700-year-old tales of Robin Hood and Sherwood Forest. Lord Byron's home at Newstead Abbey and the historic Wollaton Hall and Deer Park are also within easy reach.

Here are just some of the great reasons to come to Nottingham this summer.

- We are famous for our music scene. Check out who's playing at this year's Splendour Festival.
- If you prefer something on a smaller scale, there is the annual Waterfront Festival, hosting local bands and performers.
- Regular weekend events will help you sample the best in local food and drink in the Old Market Square.
- Top DJs will be playing every weekend at Stealth, one of the best clubs in the UK, or you can see a band at the world-famous Rock City venue.
- Drop in to Lee Rosy's tea shop for films, special events, and something a bit more chilled.
