MULTILINGUALISM
All the courses taught in Spanish and offered in our 5 Bachelor’s Degrees courses are available to visiting students. In addition, the faculty offers a wide range of subjects taught in English; our English offer consistently increases every year, making it possible to study here without a sound knowledge of Spanish. 19 subjects are offered in English and another 10 as English Friendly Courses (EFC): subjects taught in Spanish with tutoring, teaching materials and examinations in English.
In addition to the courses in English available at our faculty, international exchange visitors can apply to take one or more courses out of the extra 45 courses available in English at other faculties within the Campus of Biscay.

MOBILITY PROGRAMMES
Meet students coming from all over the world. Ours is among the most international faculties at the University of the Basque Country, based on the number of outbound and inbound exchange students. The faculty is a meeting point for students coming from across the planet:
1. Erasmus+ Programme: Germany, Belgium, Bulgaria, Denmark, France, Italy, Norway, the Netherlands, Portugal, the UK...
2. Latin America programme: Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Chile, Mexico, Peru...
3. Other Regions: Canada, South Korea, The US, Japan, Kazakhstan...
A student from the Faculty (buddy) will help you to prepare your stay before your arrival and throughout your first few days in the Basque Country. Your buddy will resolve your doubts about the city, transport, the Faculty, the operation of university services … He or she will be your guide, facilitating your adaptation and integration.
The Vice-Rectorate for Coordination and International Relations offers language courses for visiting students, both in Spanish and Basque languages. These courses are free of charge for exchange students and, depending on your language level, you will be assigned to the group that suits you best: beginner, intermediate or advanced. In addition to courses every semester (60 hours), there is also an intensive Spanish course in summer before the academic year starts (45 hours).

How does society operate? Can we predict voter intention? What effects do the social networks and the internet have on our lives? How can social inequality be confronted? And how can we predict the success of a new app or cleaning product? Sociology holds the answer to these and many other questions that affect and preoccupy us.

The 21st century situates us before a global social reality of accelerated changes marked by the undisputed presence of the new technologies. In the Sociology degree course, you will study social life, social change, cultural diversity, groups and communities, their relationships and their interactions using scientific methods to find the answers to complex social questions.

You will be able to specialize in 3 majors or career paths: Analysis and Management of Social Problems, Social Welfare and its Processes, or Social Networks and Institutions.

If you are an observant person wanting to understand what is happening in your society and elsewhere, interested in understanding the origins and causes of social phenomena, identifying and analysing problems and proposing solutions to contribute to the improvement of society, the degree course in Sociology is your ideal choice.

This Degree will train you to...

Analyze social challenges and necessities, develop a critical attitude toward social practices, design and manage public policy and social intervention projects, design and assess policies and educational programmes in public and private institutions, develop management strategies in public and private organizations, perform sociological research, produce sociological research reports, become intellectually and ethically rigorous when performing sociological analysis.
