

Application Information for Exchange Program at Kanagawa University 2026

Kanagawa University announces the application information for the exchange program for the students from partner institutions as below:

1. Kanagawa University Student Exchange Program

We call for exchange students who wish to conduct study abroad at Kanagawa University for the purpose of committing to their studies with the main result of this being the acquisition of appropriate credits for undergraduate and graduate school (subject study path, as explained below) exchange students and the appropriate conduct of research activities for graduate school (research focus path, as explained below) exchange students. The languages in which credited subjects will be conducted are either Japanese or English. Students are required to submit proof of proficiency in Japanese and/or English depending on the subjects which they plan to register. Please refer to "6. How to Apply/Application Materials" for details.

Exchange students at Kanagawa University each belong to a faculty or graduate school, and conduct study/research activities according to the following. However, the maximum number of subjects that can be taken in the affiliated faculty or graduate school will depend on the maximum credit for each semester stipulated by that faculty/graduate school.

Maximum number of credits in each semester for each faculty or graduate school:

<https://kanagawa-u.box.com/s/rpcjav0vrzy1s3iq73bq764785w4bg9d>

- Undergraduates: focus on study subjects in the field of the department/faculty to which they belong, Japanese language subjects and subjects related to Japan (there are some subjects, such as seminar subjects, for which exchange students may not be able to register).
- Graduate students: Belonging to a graduate school, choose one of the two paths mentioned below in 【Paths for Graduate School Exchange Students】 in accordance with the purpose of their exchange. They must carefully check the requirements of their home university before choosing their path on the application form. However, if the graduate school that a student wishes to belong to for the subject study path is not one that accepts students for the subject study path, then the student must either choose another graduate school or belong to an undergraduate faculty instead. If a graduate student belongs to an undergraduate faculty, they will be subject to the same conditions regarding subject selection as an undergraduate student.

【Paths for Graduate School Exchange Students】

There are 2 paths for graduate school exchange students as follows. Graduate school exchange students are to select their preferred path in application format① Kanagawa University and Kanagawa University Graduation School Exchange Student Application (Forms) and application format⑧ Study Plan/Research Plan. As the path for which a graduate school exchange student selects in application format① Kanagawa University and Kanagawa University Graduation School Exchange Student Application (Forms) will be deemed the official selection, students are requested to ensure they read the conditions carefully and make the correct path selection.

- Subject Study Path (for exchange students who wish to take Japanese language subjects, subjects related to Japan and a wide range of specialist subjects, rather than conducting research in their major field)
 - While the student will belong to a graduate school, they are permitted to take subjects at undergraduate and graduate level. However, they are required to take at least 6 subjects per semester including at least 1 subject in the graduate school to which they belong.
 - No research supervisor will be allocated to such students.
 - In the case that the graduate school a student wishes to enroll in does not accept "Subject Study Path" exchange students, then the student must either choose another graduate school or belong to an undergraduate faculty instead.
- Research Focus Path (for exchange students who wish to focus on conducting research activities in their major field)
 - A student will be accepted if allocation of a research supervisor, based on the contents of the submitted Research Plan, is deemed possible. If a research supervisor who fits the research topic of the applicant cannot be found, there may be cases where acceptance of the exchange is not possible or there is a request to alter the contents of the research.
 - At the conclusion of their exchange, the student must submit a report outlining the results of their research.
 - The student must enroll in at least 1 subject in the graduate school to which they belong.

As it is necessary to select a research supervisor for graduate school exchange students who wish to select the Research Focus Path, we request that the study/research plan to be outlined in application format⑧ Study Plan/Research Plan be written in as much detail as possible. For the research supervisor that you wish to provide supervision, please refer to the below URL, before entering a name. As there is a possibility that an exchange will not be accepted if the study area does not match, the student is requested to ensure that a supervisor who has matching research/educational interests is selected.

2. Period of Student Exchange

Our exchange program is for one semester or one year. First Semester is from April to July and Second Semester is from September to January the following year and it is possible to start the program in either April or September. As most of the classes run for a semester only, it is possible to begin the exchange in September or conduct the exchange for only one semester but in this case it is not possible to take any of the few classes that start in April and run for two semesters. Changes to the period of study after application are not accepted in principle, so please confirm the period before you apply.

However, there may be restrictions imposed with regard to the registration for Japanese language classes.

※2 With regard to the Graduate Schools of Economics and Engineering, applications for conducting study in English are only accepted in the case where there has been prior agreement by a faculty member to provide academic supervision. Please ask for further details.

※3 The Faculty of Engineering is considering implementation of the EMI Program (tentative name) to study a wide range of basic and applied science and engineering subjects in English and Japanese (six subjects).

6. How to Apply/Application Materials

<How to Apply>

After being officially selected as an exchange student by their home institution, the applicant is to apply during the application period through filling in the online application format① Kanagawa University and Kanagawa University Graduate School Exchange Student Application (Forms) and submitting all application materials. In principle, we cannot accept applications for which all materials have not been submitted. Kanagawa University will email the designated formats and information about submission methods to applicants who have been nominated online by a partner institution.

After application is completed, we will announce confirmation of receiving the application to the applicant. We may ask for a check that application information is correct and/or modification of the documents. Also, with regard to the faculty/department or graduate school to which the applicant wishes to belong, we may ask for a change after weighing up the subjects that are planned to be selected or the contents of the planned research.

<Application Materials>

All documents must be prepared all in either Japanese or English in accordance with their language of registration. A translation of each document, in Japanese or English as appropriate, should be attached along with the original if any documents are prepared in other languages.

Since 2023, we now no longer wish applicants to post original documents to us. However, we may need to receive some original documents as we apply for the Certificate of Eligibility, so we ask applicants to ensure they keep safe all original application documents. In the case originals are needed, we ask for them to be posted by courier or some other tracked method. Also, we do not return the original documents after the application.

7. Other

<Certificate of Eligibility for Student Visa>

Kanagawa University will, on behalf of exchange students, apply to the Immigration Services Agency of Japan for the Certificate of Eligibility (COE).

As soon as the Certificate is issued, it will be sent in digital form directly to the applicant so after receiving the COE, the applicant is required to immediately go to their local Japanese Embassy or Consulate in order to apply for a student visa. Details will be explained in the Handbook for Exchange Students provided to successful applicants.

<Student Accommodation and Homestay>

Kanagawa University has accommodation for exchange students and can also introduce agencies for homestays and the like. Please apply during the online application process. Details will be explained in the Handbook for Exchange Students.

<Subject Selection>

Undergraduate exchange students along with graduate exchange students who select the Subject Study Path must take at least 6 classes/semester (1 subject = 100 minutes/week, 600 minutes per week in total) to maintain eligibility for their student visa. In addition, students are expected to focus on specialized courses in their undergraduate department/faculty or graduate school/course.

Graduate exchange students who select the research focus path will need to spend more time on research activities and therefore do not have to follow the above rule. However, we request they register for at least 1 class in the graduate school to which they belong. Also, it is necessary for their study/research time to be a total of over 10 hours per week.

Please refer to the details about subject registration at the below URLs in order to plan your study program beforehand.

- Syllabus

<https://webstation-koukai.kanagawa-u.ac.jp/>

※If the number of students exceeds the class capacity, a lottery will be held. Since there is a possibility that you may not be selected for a particular subject or subjects in the lottery, you may not always be able to take the subjects you wish to take. Please be sure to earn any credits required for graduation while at your home university so you do not need to rely on the credits from Kanagawa University.

- Subjects Conducted in English

<https://www.kanagawa-u.ac.jp/international/welcome/exchange/>

Refer to the excel file called “英語による開講科目一覧 Subjects Conducted in English”

※The Subjects Conducted in English file is for reference and there is a possibility that a subject will not be held in the semester when the exchange student conducts their exchange.

<Scholarships>

Kanagawa University offers the Yoneda Yoshimori Education Scholarship for exchange students from partner institutions for whom the below application qualifications and grant conditions are satisfied.

• Undergraduate or graduate students of a partner institution, who are being accepted as exchange students in Kanagawa University or Kanagawa University Graduate School, have excellent academic record and character and satisfy the below grant conditions 1-3, may be recommended as candidates for the scholarship by their home institution during the online nomination process. However, the number of students who may be recommended by a partner institution will be limited to one student per semester, regardless of whether they are an undergraduate or graduate school student.

1. The Grade Point Average (GPA) up to the most recent semester of the applicant is 2.3 (on a scale of 3).

※If the partner institution does not use a scale of 3 GPA system, Kanagawa University will make the calculation in accordance with the method stipulated for the “Student Exchange Support Program (Scholarship for Short-Term Study in Japan)” by the Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO). Please be sure to check with your school to see if you meet the criteria. (Please refer here for the conversion calculation formula: <https://kanagawa-u.box.com/s/gw3fsmi7myqzso4x9xqrp7m8fym2tjq>

2. Support is necessary for economic reasons.

*Please submit a letter of recommendation that includes details indicating the need for financial assistance for financial reasons.

Even if it is confirmed that your home institution has deemed you have sufficient funds for your study abroad or you will receive sufficient financial support from your home institution or country of origin, if the person responsible at the partner institution wishes the student to receive the grant, the application will be accepted.

3. If the Area Classification for the Partner University is “B” or “C” under the Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) scholarship system in the relevant academic year. However, graduate students wishing to select the research focus path in the equivalent of the second year of masters or above (at time of commencing exchange) may apply regardless of the Area Classification of the home partner institution.

■List of Area Classifications as Currently Designated by JASSO

<https://kanagawa-u.box.com/s/07eu6sc6ncad47gnwe3styomonbpjgpt>

(Note)

- (When nominating more than one student from a partner institution for the same semester)

*Multiple students cannot be recommended as scholarship recipients for the same semester. Please recommend only one student who meets the above scholarship conditions. Based on the concept of "providing continuous support to scholarship recipients until the completion of their study abroad," the partner institution cannot recommend the next student for the scholarship until the current scholarship recipient has completed their study abroad.

Scholarships for one student may not be divided and awarded to more than one student.

*The maximum number of scholarship recommendees is "one per semester" per partner school. Please note that this does not mean "one student per recommendation."

(For example, if a student who studied in First Semester 2026 will continue to study in Second Semester 2026, and another student is to be nominated for study abroad for six months in Second Semester 2026, the total number of exchange students in Second Semester 2026 will be two students. In such a case, it is the student who was recommended first who can be recommended as a scholarship recipient, not both the continuing student and the new student.)

Example of 1 person/semester	2026 First Semester	2026 Second Semester
Student 1 (1 year of study abroad)
Student 2 (6 months of study abroad)

■ Amount of Scholarship Grant: 80,000 Japanese yen per month (For AY 2026 intake)

* This amount may be revised from the next academic year.

■ Period of Grant Payment:

【In case of beginning in April】

- For short-term exchanges: April – July (4 months)
- For long-term exchanges April – January (10 months)

【In case of beginning in September】

- For short-term exchanges: October – January (4 months)
- For long-term exchanges: October – July (10 months)

※ There are cases where an evaluation may determine a scholarship application to be invalid.

※ In the case of a one year exchange, in the first semester of study at Kanagawa University, grades (GPA of 2.3 or above) and attendance (over around 80%) will be confirmed in evaluating the scholarship for the second semester of study.

※ In the case of research focus path graduate students, the research supervisor will confirm the first semester research activities as the basis for evaluating the scholarship for the second semester of study.

※ If grades or attendance are found to be extremely poor after the completion of the exchange, there may be cases where return of the scholarship funds is required.

<Security Export Control and Research Activities>

Kanagawa University applies strict security export control according to the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act. Students who are enrolled in Kanagawa University as exchange students will agree to conduct research, studies, and other activities in accordance to the various rules put in place by Kanagawa University regarding security export control.

<Support for Students with Disabilities, Illness etc.>

With regard to potential applicants with disabilities (developmental issues, use of magnification aids, hearing aid, wheelchair etc.) or illnesses that require support or consideration, we ask the person responsible at the nominating home university to consult with the International Center by email during (or before) the online nomination period. We will send a form for applying for consideration for academic studies. After receiving the application, we will examine and consider what we are able to do and respond in writing to the person responsible at the nominating institution. If there is no prior application or the application/inquiry is made after the nomination period ends, there may be cases where consideration is not possible so we ask for both student and staff to be careful with this. If through an unforeseen accident or the like consideration becomes necessary after the application has been made, we request the parties involved to contact us as soon as possible.

※Prior application in this regard will have no effect on whether or not the exchange application is accepted.

※Kanagawa University is aiming to provide an environment where people with disabilities are able to operate smoothly without obstacle but there are some buildings or facilities that are not yet sufficiently enabling this on campus.

※Relevant students and staff are asked to refer to the Kanagawa University Guidelines on Support for Students with Disabilities
