

Recommended housing list for international students

The University of Montevideo does not offer on-campus accommodation, but we provide this recommended list to help students find housing.

The University of Montevideo is not responsible for any liability raised before, during or after the service provided by the owners, nor for any grievances of either the students or the owners over the contract or the propriety. The international relations office limits itself in providing information on temporary or permanent housing.

To call a Uruguayan phone number, you must dial the country code (+598).

The areas of Centro, Cordón, Parque Rodó, Tres Cruces, Parque Batlle, and Pocitos are the most popular among international students.

Recommendations for moving around at night:

- Avoid very dark or deserted streets.
- Walk with someone else if you can.
- Choose official taxis or ride-hailing apps instead of walking alone in unfamiliar areas.
- Avoid showing valuable items like cameras or expensive watches too openly.

Areas to be cautious at night:

Some neighborhoods like Ciudad Vieja, Malvín Norte, Cerro, Maroñas and a few surrounding areas can be less safe late at night.
